Brewer-The Resources of Connecticut in Cereals-Pacts and Figures. The New Haven County Farmers' club held meeting in Sheffield Hall vesterday after: noon at 2 o'clock, Professor Brewer, president of the club, in the chair. Before the opening of the meeting the Professor chalked on the blackboard a series of figures showing Agricultural society (or perhaps we should the grain production of Connecticut from 1839 to 1879 in the five decades. They were Seymour and Beacon Falls Agricultural soas follows and it is given in bushels :

Maine and New York, which the Professor Maine and New York, which the Protessor When you visit or leave New York city considered an average. The average size of When you visit or leave New York city considered and carriage him lated principally to grains. He said that schedules were sent out to every part of the United States. The fact has developed that most of the grain was grown not on cheap new lands, but on land worth from $30 to $40 per acre. About 2,200,000,000 bushels of grain were grown during the last year. My own belief is that there is a revolution at present going on in England in regard to the growing of grain. America and the United States are in competition with England in consequence of the facilities of transportation. According to the best estimates it cost the farmers about as much to draw a bushel of grain a mile as it cost the railroads to of grain a mile as it cost the railroads to draw a ton the same distance. The Professor said he had drawn some tables on the blackboard that would show the cost of raising grain as compared between New England and Old Frainard.

Some grain was exported before the Revo-ution, Philadelphia being the principal port of export for grain.

Since commencing the moving of grain by cars the use of the steam thresher and the handling of grain in large quantities had been introduced. Yet it is well to know that the introduced. Yet it is well to know that the prices of sending grain fluctuate. The average cost of sending grain from New York to Europe last year was 11½ cents per bushel, yet on through bills of lading from St. Paul, Minnesota, to England this year grain was sent for 30 cents a bushel, less than the cost for a farmer to cart it forty miles. The cost from San Francisco to Europe has been 50 to Europe has been 50 with the exeruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. from San Francisco to Europe has been 50 cents per bushel.

The grain elevators and the rapidity with which they work were interestingly referred to. It cost by the elevators from a cent to half a cent per bushel, and they would load a canal boat or a steamer with astonishing rapidity. The elevators have changed the price of wheat flour most wonderfully, and whereas the English laborers now eat wheat bread, they used to eat rye bread or barley. A short time ago speculators run up the price of flour in this country and dealers in England reshipped flour to New York at a profit. So to day I ate potatoes raised in Ireland which had been shipped to this country and sold about as cheap as potatoes raised in our own country.

Speaking of sowing crops, the professor

Speaking of sowing crops, the professor said the yield could never be estimated beforehand. Then if you raise several kinds of grain, and in addition root crops, it is a very hard matter to tell what they cost. Yet a farmer, if he finds a certain cereal or root does not do well, can change and raise others. In this the New England farmer has the advantage over Old England, as he can find a market for whatever he raises. In Old England there is an antagonism among farmers. The man who rented his land 5, 10, 15 or 20 years ago and agreed to raise a certain crop now finds himself in a condition that he cannot raise these exclusive articles and keep up his rents.

Agriculture did not improve any from the time of the Egyptians to the days of the Revolution, from the fact that those who worked on the farms were not honored. But in this country from its first settlement the title of the soil was honored and its occupants could hold any position on an equal with others.

Here land is transferred easily and does

Here land is transferred easily and does not bear any burdens because it is land, and the parties who farm the land own it. The intelligence is what has kept up these farms in New England. The Professor then called attention to the blackboard which showed a great falling off in some carrels and he carrels areason that it was because people ate more wheat. The production of buckwheat had decreased also because there was less eaten than formerly.

In conclusion the Professor said it would seem that while in one sense we work under great disadvantages, yet the results are quite markets and freedom from disaster it would seem that there is no reason for the Connec-sicut farmer to complain, especially when it is considered that the chances of disaster are so small We seldom hear of a Connecticut farmer failing, yet these things are quite fre-quent in the West.

J. J. Webb said he thought it would be a good idea if the farmers would talk over prices they were getting for produce, as they had to depend too much on the grocers as to Several farmers gave the prices they were receiving for cereals and roots, and the club then adjourned until the first Friday after-

There was a better attendance at this meet-ing than formerly, and the interest in Pro-fessor Brewer's address was apparent. Itching Piles .- Symptoms and Cure.

These magnificent steamers, built in water tight compartmente, are among the strongest, largest and fastest on the Atlantic.

The saloons are luxuriously furnished, especially well lighted and ventilated, and take up the whole width of the ship. The principal staterooms are amidships, forward of the engines, where least noise and motion is felt; and are replete with every comfort, having all latest improvements, double berths, electric bells, &c.

The cuisine has always been a specialty or this Line. Ledies' cabins and bathrooms, Gentlemen's amoking and bathrooms, Barbars' shops, planes, libraries &c., provided.

The Steerage accommodation cannot be excelled. Passengers of this class will find their comfort and privacy particularly studied, and the provisioning unsurpassed. msurpaseed.

Appended are a few testimonials, want of space forbids the publishing of more. Their names will be cheerfully given to those desiring them by calling at the Doctor's office. Case I is that of a lady wht was pronounced by three of the most prominent physicians of her native city to be in the last stage of consumption, and told that her case was helpless and hopeless. After being restored to sound health by Dr. Lyon she sent the following letter, carnestly requesting that it should be published in the hope that it might reach others similarly afflicted:

To all who may be afflicted with that common discase, Consumption, or any weakness of the lungs, I would appeal to them to immediately consult Dr. John L. Lyon, of New Haven, Conn., feeling sure that by so doing they may be restored to health. For several years I was troubled with a cough, hemorrhage of the lungs and the usual symptoms of Consumption. I consulted and was treated by some of the most eminent physicians the country afforded, without deriving any permanent benefit whatever. In the spring of 1863 the disease made such rapid progress that ray attending physician and friends gave up all hopes of with that dull hesdache that I mee had, and sleep never was so refreshing, as I am not disturbed with dreams. Before I came to you it was difficult for me to comine my thoughts for any length of time to any subject, understedly owing to that complaint, and the contrast is quite noticeable. If I over know one troubled with that complaint, I shall immediately direct them, to you as an effectual means of sums curse, for it seems so me that I almost over my life to you, for if it had been allowed to grow spen me the time could not have been far distant when that incurable disease (consumption) would have been deeply estated in my system. Please accept my sincere thanks for your treatment thus far. I menain, yours truly. H.P. HOADLEY,
